Open cockpit or aft cabin

The Aquanaut Majestic is indeed a worthy follower to the successful Aquanaut Privilege series, and it is with pride that we now introduce the first two models in the Majestic series: The 1300 OC with an open cockpit and the 1300 AC with an aft cabin. The 1150 and 1500 models will follow at a later date.

This new series of stylish motor yachts has been developed by Jan Piet Bakker in conjunction with the Aquanaut team, which has contributed its 50 year's of valuable collective experience to the design.

The Majestic is a contemporary design with an eye to the past. The modern interior projects a warm feeling and the character of a real ship thanks to the application of wood tones. A straight bow, plenty of glass all round, curved lines and modern colours are combined with maintenance-free (imitation) teak details.

Experience the luxury feeling of Aquanaut

Plenty of room to enjoy yourself

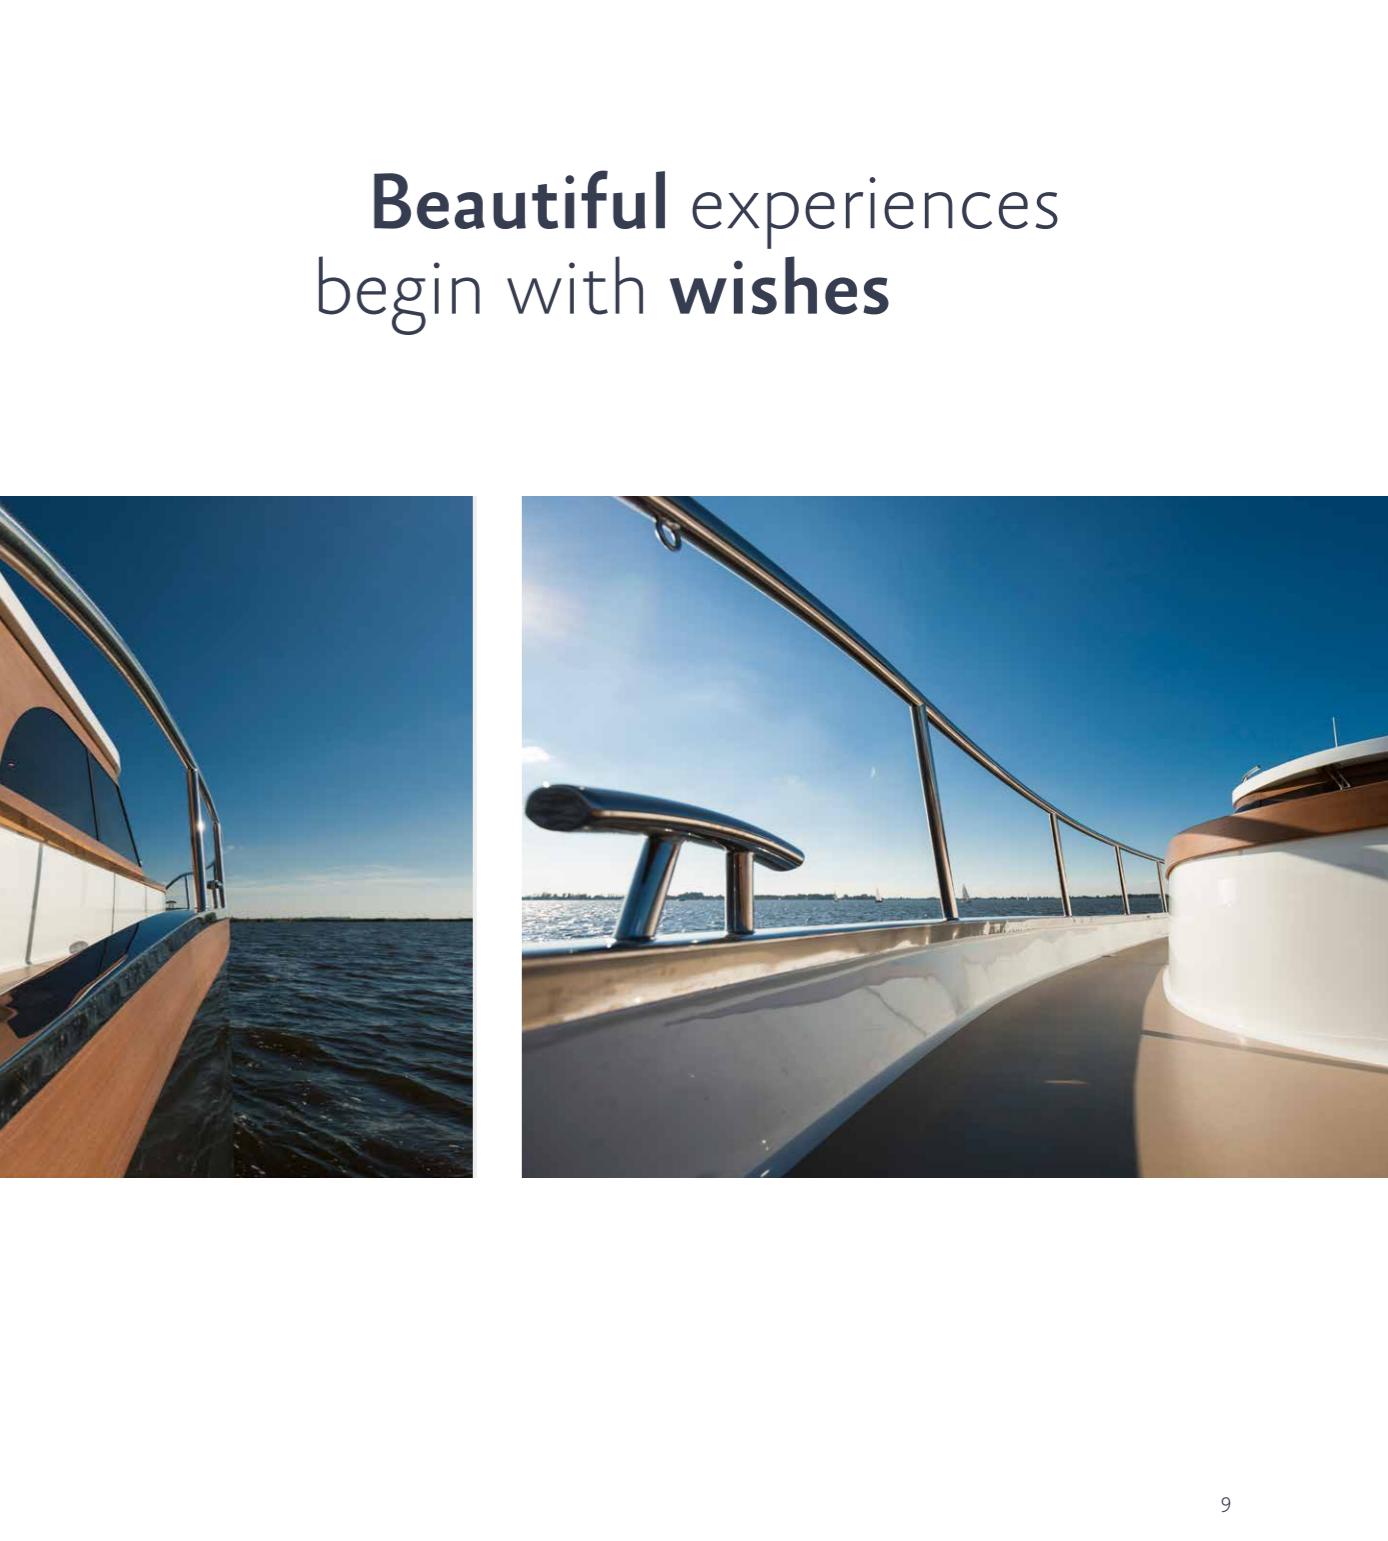

The Majestic 1300, with a length of 13.15 meters and a beam of 4.50 meters, is a comfortable and spacious motor yacht. Moreover, and thanks to the straight bow, there is much more interior room. The interior begins entirely forward, which is not possible with a 'normal' raked bow. With a traditional bow the beam of a ship is reached two meters behind the bow, whereas with the Majestic's straight bow the beam is reached after just one meter. Even more space is achieved through the single chine keel. The keel remains extra wide up to the water's surface which, in turn, provides extra floor space.

Go to wherever you wish

The Majestic 1300 has a CE-B certificate, which means that all the European inland and surrounding waters are within the limits of your sailing compass.

Interior

- Both the Majestic 1300 AC and the Majestic 1300 OC have all round glazing in the living area thus giving fantastic panoramic views.
- The OC has a generous-sized master cabin forward with a French bed and two spacious guest cabins.
- The AC offers both owner and guests wide double beds which are accessible from all sides.
