Dutch Craftsmanship

Your Choices, Your Taste

Life is a long chain of choices, which has led you to this unique moment, where you are about to purchase your very own ship. With a Majestic, you have chosen passion, craftsmanship and excellent quality.

Justly proud

These are the common denominators of all of the more than 1,300 solid, reliable and beautiful motor yachts we have built by hand since 1961 at our own shipyard in the water city of Sneek. This is the approach that allows Aquanaut to offer you ultimate sailing comfort. How? By always providing room for personal choices. Your choices.

And whatever model you opt for, you will be justifiably proud of it. Not only because of the vessel's perfect sailing characteristics, but also because of the design and layout of every single one of our yachts. These always show the marks of good taste, because it is your taste! This also applies to the marvellous Majestic.

THE MAJESTIC

Modern design with a nod to the past

Stylish comfort

The Aquanaut Majestic is a worthy follower to the successful Aquanaut Privilege series. It is with pride that we developed two models in the Majestic series: open cockpit or aft cabin. Both available as 1150, 1300 and 1500 models.

Extensive series

This extensive series of stylish motor yachts has been developed by Jan Piet Bakker in conjunction with the Aquanaut team, which has contributed its 50 year's of valuable collective experience to the design.

The Majestic is a contemporary design with an eye to the past. The modern interior projects a warm feeling and the character of a real ship thanks to the application of wood tones. A straight bow, plenty of glass all round, curved lines and modern colours are combined with maintenance-free (imitation) teak details.

THE MAJESTIC
Experience the luxury feeling

Plenty of room to enjoy yourself

The Majestic is a comfortable and spacious motor yacht. Moreover, and thanks to the straight bow, there is much more interior room. The interior begins entirely forward, which is not possible with a 'normal' raked bow..

Extra floor space

With a traditional bow the beam of a ship is reached two meters behind the bow, whereas with the Majestic's straight bow the beam is reached after just one meter. Even more space is achieved through the single chine keel. The keel remains extra wide up to the water's surface which, in turn, provides extra floor space.

Panoramic views during distant travels

The Majestic has a CE-B certificate, which means that all the European inland and surrounding waters are within the limits of your sailing compass. Ans wherever you go, the Majestic AC and OC have all round glazing in the living area thus giving a fantastic panoramic views.

Generous-sized cabins

The AC offers both owner and guests wide double beds which are accessible from all sides. The OC has generous-sized master cabin forward with a French bed and two spacious guest cabins.

You'r in control

But at Aquanaut, we are also very much aware that no two owners look for exactly the same in their yacht. That is why we offer customers 100% customisation options for the interior and exterior, at an agreed-upon additional cost. You're in control, in all areas! From colours to dimensions and from materials to equipment.

SERVICE

Service has a name: Aquanaut

A passion for sailing is the motivation and driving force of the Aquanaut family company. You will see this reflected in a good and personal service and after sales support. Whoever buys an Aquanaut becomes part of the family. You will receive the best possible support in making the right choices throughout each stage of building your yacht.

Service and maintenance

Similarly, after the inaugural launching of your yacht you can count on support from Aquanaut. A two year guarantee with calamity service ex wharf is standard. After the expiry of the guarantee period you can rely on Aquanaut service and maintenance at costs commensurate with current market tariffs.

That is the advantage of a family concern with passion and a long term vision. It is also demonstrated by a sound customer satisfaction record. Many Aquanaut owners opt for another Aquanaut when purchasing a new yacht.
